

Chun-Li Chen, who also goes by the name Lili, was born in Taichung, Taiwan, and now lives in London. She moved to London in 2006 and is now back to the old apartment where she grew up in and has started a studio there. Her daily life involves making illustrations and designs, and she also enjoys sewing, photography, cooking, and daydreaming. Lili graduated from the University of Brighton in the UK with a MA in sequential design and illustration, and in 2006, she was awarded by the V&A Illustration Award in London as the student illustrator of the year.
